1.0 Graders, Snow-Blowers, All Wheel Drive Trucks

These units may be used along with section plow trucks when snowfall amounts are such that the patrol section vehicle cannot plow the section. It is expected that auxiliary equipment will not be needed unless the snowfall intensity or duration exceeds the capabilities of the patrol truck. Other factors can and do influence the decision when auxiliary equipment may be needed, i.e., traffic volumes, amount of moisture content of the snow, snow/ice pack, time of day, wind, other equipment breakdowns, etc.
